

Weekly bulletin

5th May 2023

A very good evening to all members.

Here we are on the eve of a very big weekend for Dromana Bowls Club. I look forward to seeing as many of you as possible at tomorrow night's Presentation Night, followed by the AGM on Saturday. I hope everyone has done their homework in reading the article I sent you on synthetic greens and issues relating to their replacement; it is very important that you have some basic knowledge of all the alternative surfaces before voting on this very important matter.

Hopefully by now you will have received your electronic copy of the Annual Report through your email system, please note there will also be hard copies of this report available for your perusal on Saturday. Many thanks to Phil, Val and Di who spent many hours yesterday collating and compiling these hard copies, we should have plenty to go around should people be unable to print up their own copy.

This week I am presenting to you some fashion samples, as seen in the accompanying photos modelled by Peter, Di and Carmel. We are introducing a new line of club dress shirts, with monogram, which can be worn equally comfortably at club functions or on the greens during social events. Samples will be available for you to look at and try on at the club tomorrow night, as part of our Presentation Night activities. The club favours the navy-blue colour with white trim, while Peter's white shirt as shown is only to give an indication of style and fit. At this stage prices are likely to be around $35 for Ladies and $40 for Men. There will be an order sheet available tomorrow night, with Di and Amelia on hand to help you out. Please support this initiative, club shirts have proven to be a very popular item in the past, and those of us who have purchased them previously consider them to have been a very good buy, and most appropriate in a number of fashion forums! Please note that the sizes shown are a little on the small size, so you might need to try on and order with this in mind.

Peter is wearing a small size navy blue shirt, and a large size white sample. Di is wearing a Size 14, while Carmel is wearing a size 18. Payment for shirts to be made by May 26th.

Until next week, with a new Board in place and a new year about to start in our bowling calendar, I look forward to seeing you soon. Regards, Peter.
